DAILY MESSAGE OF MARY, ROSE OF PEACE, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA, PAYSANDU, URUGUAY, TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS DEL SAGRADO CORAZÓN

Forgive Betrayal, Love Your Enemies

Dear children,

This Christmas, with the Light of Jesus having been born within your hearts, may your lives and consciousnesses take a new step in order to finish yet another stage in the learning of love and forgiveness that the planet offers you.

Love your enemies so that someday you can forgive their betrayals.

Children, may this same inner fortitude of love be built within you, that which My Son lived and experienced upon this planet, knowing that He was born in this humanity in order to redeem it and save it from all its evils.

For this reason, love your enemies, and you will be able to forgive their betrayals.

Jesus, knowing that He incarnated to die for all His brothers and sisters who would betray Him, time and time again, did not cease to love His enemies, just as the Father had asked of Him.

Love your enemies and someday you will be able to forgive all their betrayals.

It is a big step, during this Christmas, to transcend the pain of having been betrayed or subjected to something for some reason.

It is a Christic and conscious step, to live a Higher Love above all that has taken place.

Love your enemies and you will be able to forgive all their betrayals.

Each soul of this Earth is called upon to submerge into the Ocean of the Love of God to banish within themselves their own Judas that tries to compromise the spiritual life of the disciples of Christ.

The sure and full step is to surrender to love, to trust, and to let yourselves be guided by the Light of the Divine Messengers at each new step.

Thus, each soul on this Earth, in due time, will learn to love more and be able to forgive all betrayals that their own inner Judas may have managed to make or commit.

Love your enemies, and someday you will be able to forgive all their betrayals.

We live this Christmas of the Lord to confirm to the Universe our next steps in this journey of learning how to love what we could never love and to learn to forgive what we could never forgive.

It is an important and Christic step in the spiritual life to love our enemies, so that someday you may learn to forgive them, like Christ forgave after all He lived until the Cross.

Thus, the times have changed, and the doors of the Universe of the Love of God will open to offer the disciples of Christ to love their enemies more in order to be able to forgive all their betrayals and actions.

At this Nativity of the Lord, may humanity grow in the living experience of the School of Love, but now, transcending all offenses, betrayals and deceptions that a fellow being, or a brother or sister, may have caused us, so that, in trust and in faith, the disciples of Christ may enter through the greater door to the school of learning to love their enemies so that the Father, Who is merciful, may forgive them for their betrayals.

The time has come to live the Parable of the Prodigal Son, imitating the Father of Divine Justice and Mercy, deciding to go through new Christic experiences on the path of love and of an unconditional spirit.

May this Sacred Christmas of the Lord inspire us and give impulse to the inner Christs who were born to live Higher Love for their enemies so that, as you were, they may be forgiven of all betrayals.

These are the patterns of life for a new humanity which must first be spiritually constituted and formed.

I encourage you, as Jesus was, to love your enemies so that someday they may receive an opportunity, as you received directly from Christ.

Be willing to take steps in the Christic life of Love and Wisdom.

I thank you for responding to My call!

Who blesses you,

Your Mother Mary, Rose of Peace
