

Monday, May 7 of 2012

So that your hearts are strengthened through My Son, as Redeemer and Savior of souls, fidelity is one of the paths that today I invite to walk on for love of God's plans.

Still the enemy is not resting and it still has the aim of making My plans of Peace break down. While you are in My Immaculate Heart this will not touch you because you will be under My protective mantle. When the souls must mature as a consciousness, they are tempted a lot by the enemy, but in each of the trials is the confirmation to the consecration and to the Divine Purpose to each one of My children.

As a Mother Guardian of the souls I know that for this time of great changes in a sick and asleep humanity My rays of Peace, Salvation and Mercy try to come to the greatest number of lives so that all of them may be protected by the prayer of the heart, from the assaults that the enemy plans when one of My children reaches consecration.

The victory of the Heavens on Earth will go on through the immense and loving supplications that My children proclaim for love of God and so that His Forgiveness descends.

Dear children, for this do not fear for how much is still left for you to change in life or how heavy is the burden that each of you carry so that this may be freed and redeemed.

For the present time allow the Light of My Virginal Shield to support you and for this, My children, call for the presence of My loving maternal protection.

Know that I guard you all, but now it is time for each of you to grow as a consciousness and as a heart.

Forward, little children!

Thank you for answering My call.

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity.