WEEKLY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Children, the planetary need dictates:

That the hearts, beliefs, races and religions unite. That they unite under the principle of Truth and Love, the essence of each people, culture and true religion. That the hearts unite themselves in the families. That the parents, with the children, find a way to understand and respect, to guide and lead, especially by example.

The human heart is sick and to perceive it, it is not necessary to see beyond the dimensions. Life itself shows you, children, that to continue enduring these times and, more than this, to become a triumph of God in the world, you need to renew yourselves and there is no renewal that does not come from unity.

The best that each heart expresses is what allows life to be renewed. A father does not renew himself without his child, a nation does not renew itself without the contribution of another, a religion does not renew itself if it does not open itself to discover the potency of sharing and not of competing. Earth renews itself when it opens to the Universe, the hearts renew themselves when they open to service and find, in the beauty of the fellow being, the inspiration for newness within themselves.

All that this world needs to progress is within its Essence, but this Gift divided itself among creatures, cultures, nations and religions.

It is not only to search to see the misery of others and that which makes you better than others, but seek in your fellow beings that which inspires them to communion, the essence there is in Truth and that makes them unique, in God; thus, you can renew yourselves and have strength to overcome the harassments of this time.

While the enemy separates, search for unity. God is unity through His creatures when they hold hands among themselves. This, children, is the great secret to overcome the times you experience and to see, in the horizon of Earth, a new life being born.

That religions do not attach themselves to institutions, but to their Essence. That from Truth may come the Law that governs them. Thus, you will never fear to unite yourself to your fellow being because you will know how to find the same Truth, that exists inside of those before you.

I inspire you and help you to cross these times with humility and I bless you to be valiant enough to conquer yourselves and to find the Truth of God; that must guide you at this time, beyond ancient laws that one day dictated the path to be followed.

Times have changed, and you must find the Essence and the Truth that govern this moment of the planet. Everything begins by opening the heart to unity.

Your Father and Friend,

The most chaste Saint Joseph
