

Friday, December 19 of 2014

Weekly Message received in the city of Punta del Este, Maldonado, Uruguay, transmitted by the Glorified Christ Jesus to the visionary Friar Elías del Sagrado Corazón de Jesús

While the world of today largely forgets to look to God and recognize Him, I come in this time to announce My last Call to you, that which shall congregate you out of love for a spiritual and higher task with Me.

However, the souls of today are different from the souls of yesterday; there is a need instilled in the hearts to seek the good and to satisfy their lives.

I come to give to you everything that you do not know of the universe. In the name of the Love of God, I come to awaken the last apostles who shall await My arrival in the cold night.

I know you all very well, I know about your certainties and difficulties; but I need, all the time, the pulsating heart of each being; that heart and that soul which shall allow me to work in critical times.

Your efforts of love must be greater. The moment shall come when you will love that which you have never loved and forgive that which you have never forgiven.

Now, in this time of changes and tests, I deliver to you the great key of meekness, something that I experienced for you during the Passion.

I feel comforted by this world when souls love My Sacred Passion, a mystery that I began to reveal to you precisely, so that both the faithful and the atheist may find the Light of Christ in times of tribulation.

Therefore, seek to penetrate the mystery of My sacrifice and My surrender, because through My Heart you will learn to bear the attacks of the enemy, like many beings that lived and worked in My holy Name.

Woe to those who will turn their backs on Me in this time; their own ignorance and vanity shall make them sink like a boat in the open sea.

Pray for all those who shall not recognize in time that I have returned first in Soul and in Divinity.

Happy are the responsive and the persevering, they shall never lose the opportunity of knowing me deeply and in a spirit of peace.

Be workers in plenitude. Be living bearers and witnesses of My sacred Message, for the hour indicates the moment of experiencing My redeeming Love.

I Am that Being Who was born out of the work and grace of the Holy Spirit. You are those who were also born from the Source of Love.

Remember the principles of your origins and serve God in complete peace.

I shall never fail you. Call out upon My Name, seek My Word to quench the inner thirst. Always be merciful.

Under the Glory that comes from God, be blessed.

Thank you for seeking the Light of My Glorified Heart!

Peace upon the Earth.

Christ Jesus