1 My aspiration is to be able to meet you someday face to face, so that we may celebrate together with humanity the great Supper of Reconciliation, the new Easter of Peace.

2 May the Words of God pass through you and remove from within you the resistances and the dark abysses, the indifference and the more accommodated aspects of your consciousness.

3 The Love of Christ is the Love for sinners, for the lost and for those who no longer find love within themselves.

4 I am that invincible Light that comes from the Heart of God and descends to Earth, in Divine Consciousness, to awaken those who sleep.

5 If you pray for humanity, your heart will be contemplated; the Kingdoms of Nature and the spiritual essence of the planet will be contemplated.

6 Feel My Heart praying for the end of wars, violence among human beings, inner desperation and lack of love.

7 After Holy Week, during which together we re-experience the surrender of the Love of Our Lord, I invite you to Christify your lives, so that you may be able to live in Christ.

8 All the relief you can generate for your neighbor, as well as for your brothers and sisters on the path, it is to Me that you give it.

9 May your heart expand with the Heart of Christ, so that this cycle, which is being opened with the cross of the world, reveals to you one more step, a little more of the Love of God.

10 May your faith in Christ never end. Now, the time has come for each of you to take up your own cross and follow Him.

11 All the compassion that you can express to those who are not understood or accepted because of their daily problems, it is to Me that you give it.

12 When your song has been muted, offer God your silence and pray with your thought, so that it may be Him, and not the world, who fills your mind.

13 Holding the rosary in My hands, I thank all those who respond to My call to pray the Holy Rosary, because it is Our main weapon of defense.

14 Carry with you the symbol of the Sacred Cross of the Redeemer, so that humanity may be transformed through all that My Son has left to you.

15 It is the Love of God that grants humanity understanding, it is the Infinite Love that allows unity among brothers and sisters from so many different paths.

16 Let your most sincere prayers not be for you, but rather for the world.

17 God has a perfect Design for every soul, but the Celestial Father will never demand that you live it.

18 Nothing can be healed except with love, because love welcomes the pilgrim, love understands and accepts the brother and sister.

19 Today I only tell you, child, in spite of everything, in spite of anything, never lose the gladness of your heart.

20 Words of Light and Wisdom emanate from My Immaculate Heart. They are Words of Love and of Truth that come from God.

21 The Words of Light which come from My Heart make life evolve, with each consciousness becoming a Sacred instrument of God.

22 May love show you, everyday, that you can do greater things than those I did so long ago.

23 Search deep within yourself, as in the firmament of the Earth, which hides the depths of the Cosmos, the answer to your innermost concerns.

24 The Words which come from God concretize many things, especially the Purpose and the task that each soul must experience in these times.

25 Whoever takes refuge in the Master takes refuge in God and will not lack inner meaning to their life, but, on the contrary, will be guided by the spiritual Light of My Heart.

26 Seek the Truth and it will be revealed to you because this is the time for unraveling mysteries.

27 I am the Mother of the most simple among the simple; I have given Myself to My children and I take care of their souls so that they may learn to take care of their bodies.

28 True simplicity is a powerful essence, capable of moving mountains as well as awakening faith.

29 Submerge yourself into silence and you will find the keys that will open the doors of the Heavens, because silence does not beg nor boast about anything.

30 To know the Truth, you must thus seek it, knock on the door of the inner mystery and humbly allow it to reveal itself.
