

Impulses of the Divine Messengers

December 2024

Phrases extracted from the daily messages of the Three Sacred Hearts

Sunday

Immaculate Heart

1 In this month of the Nativity of the Lord, may you, like the shepherds of Bethlehem, receive with joy the announcement of the arrival and birth of the Inner Christ.

8 As Lady of the Nativity of Jesus, today I invite you to build an inner manger within yourselves during this time, through prayer.

15 The Inner Christ brings the awareness of being able to heal the internal life and it builds, within consciousness, the path of ascension toward the Celestial Father.

22 Once again, I invite all of you to prepare, in your homes, for the coming of Christ into every human heart in this coming Nativity.

29 When the Creator thought of the human project, He contemplated from the start the possibility of His making of Himself a creature among His creatures.

Monday

Sacred Heart

2 Come to Me and all will pass, for whoever comes to Me learns to truly love.

9 Let those who are tired and overwhelmed come to Me.

16 Let those who need peace the most come to Me, and I will carry them within My Heart.

23 Yes, God has left Light within everyone, but it is to Him that you must go, and not to yourselves.

30 Let My Heart fill you and transform you, so that a new being may be created within you.

Tuesday

Most Chaste Heart

3 Let the Mirrors of supplication and of crying out be ignited, which demonstrate to the Heart of God that souls accept receiving Mercy and achieving redemption.

10 Observe life: were you able to perceive that nothing on Earth is born ready? Everything goes through its process, everything ripens with time.

17 Let the Creator show you which step you must take in this season of life, so that what He is building within you may be realized.

24 Surrender yourself, as Christ did, Who – being perfect – sat at the table of sinners, and inviting them as they were, forgave them and redeemed their sins.

31 Surrender yourself, as God surrendered Himself to death, but also surrendered Himself to the mystery of faith, which gives life back and resurrects with the One Who died for you.

Wednesday

Immaculate Heart

4 May the flame of humility be in your lives, just as it was in the Chaste Heart of Saint Joseph.

11 I hear the voice of those who pray for the families of the world and bring to this new Nativity, the possibility that many more children may again find their Inner Christ.

18 In this Nativity that draws near, may all remember the Inner Christ, so that His Light and Wisdom may lead you by the hand, toward the fulfillment of the Divine Purpose.

25 I love you, bless you and, with the deep humility of My Immaculate Heart, I thank you, so that you may learn that, through gratitude, Heaven opens.

Thursday

Sacred Heart

5 Just love one another, as I have loved you, as Father and Lord, from My Birth until My Ascension.

12 Let those who suffer and endure the consequences of these times come to Me, for I can renew all things.

19 The Light of God will lead you to peace, to the peace that you need, to the peace that many hearts do not have today due to different circumstances.

26 Let My Spirit completely invade you all, so that you may understand what I need today.

Friday

Most Chaste Heart

6 Listen, child: the cry of the Earth is the same as the cry of your heart; today, all souls long for peace.

13 Your role is to live the gift of life, and in this process of being alive, never lose the dialogue with God.

20 Surrender yourself, as God Who knows how to forgive, Who casts the stones of men's sins upon the ground and does not cast upon them anything but Forgiveness and Mercy.

27 Surrender yourself and transform the loneliness, the sacrifice and the pain of the cross into a real and perfect love that crosses and transforms the universes.

Saturday

Immaculate Heart

7 You are precious crystals that, day by day, are being polished by the Hands of the Redeemer.

14 It is the Inner Christ that, in this time, will need to rule the life of people, so that souls may be free from conflicts.

21 On the eve of the Nativity of the Lord, may values of brotherhood and love be born in hearts and also in families.

28 I have taught you to pray, so that in this way you might cross the doors of your own heart and, little by little, you might discover the possibility of uniting with God, feeling Him and living Him.
