

Christic Impulses

March 2018

Phrases extracted from the daily messages of Christ Jesus

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
				1 Run toward me and free your weaknesses, completely abandon yourselves in My Arms and let Me be in you, which I have been trying since the emergence of your lives. Be brave!	2 If the consciousness manages to melt into the rhythm of the soul, other realities and possibilities will present themselves at the portal of life.	3 Let all humanity, awake or asleep, come toward Me, let them not fear Me, because I know all very well; My Spirit is Omnipresent and Omniscient.
4 The times of normalcy have come to an end, because the Universe to which all belong, excluding none, is in definitions, what we call the New Time for the world.	5 Each inner act of communion carried out by the good souls of the priests opens the doors of the Heavens so that Grace and Reconciliation may be present.	6 Do not fear to show me your mistakes; in My Merciful Eyes, your hearts are as clear as Heaven and as open as flowers. The world needs to confess every day.	7 The one who considers Me to be first in their life will be a venerable sheep of My holy flock. The one who deeply confesses their sins to Me will always be forgiven by Me.	8 I call you to deep prayer that is born of the soul and that contemplates the Compassion of God; because My Heart guides you and gathers you together in the name of peace and of light.	9 When the spiritual heart hurts, this means that an inner stain is being cleaned; this happens when there is a profound conversion in a soul in redemption.	10 If you fail me, do not think of punishment, because God is the living Presence of Love and of Compassion, and His Firstborn Son is the Fount that will wash you and purify you.
11 Universal fire is coming to purify the impurities in all of humanity, and that universal fire will be lighter if you pray, if you pray with the spiritual power of a humble heart.	12 My Heart contemplates the great effort of My servants who, in spite of being few, will be the ones who will sail on the high seas with the Captain of the Sacred Heart.	13 Today My Heart prays; it prays for the world and in the silence contemplates the great moment for souls.	14 To those who were able to walk through the fire of purification I say: be the bridge between the beginning and the end so that the wounded in spirit may cross towards My Heart.	15 I seek those who are simple and pure of heart; I gather these that they may carry My Message to those who do not yet call Me, do not live Me, and do not worship Me.	16 One day I told you to give all that you had and to follow Me; today I say: share everything and do not fear giving what shines hidden like personal property.	17 Let the true guide for your souls and your hearts be the presence of the Sacred Heart, which knows you, which loves you, which knows well about each one of His children.
18 When the spirit of love, of the truth, and of devotion is present and is radiated by My companions, I will be able to say that a part of the mission of love is being fulfilled.	19 The Most Sacred Hearts of Saint Mary and of Saint Joseph address the world and souls in a special way so that all of humanity may recognize the importance of devotion.	20 Dear friends, I know that many of you are about to cross the great threshold of the inner desert in order to experience the transformation that the Father needs in your lives.	21 In these times, may the sublime humility of the heart be able to awaken in you, so that your lives may be freed of an identification with the things of the world.	22 The path of consecration is a path of transcendence and of humility; it is a path for abandoning personal will and for renouncing the vanity that the world awakens.	23 Walk the path of challenges and of sacrifice which presents itself in your lives and drink with Me from the chalice that in these times I give to you through love and mercy.	24 I come to seek something that humanity still has within it, for it not to be lost. I come to establish a Law that comes from the Kingdom of My Father and that will save everyone.
25 Remember, My companions, that you are daily attempting to let go of yourselves and leave behind your projects for the concretization of My Greater Project.	26 Be firm in the face of the tests that the Universe of My Father sends you, because after crossing the abysses of life, My Sacred Heart will receive you in Paradise.	27 Dear ones, I prepare you daily for something greater, something you do not yet know, but that you will soon know when you simply pray and watch with Me.	28 My Mercy is the bridge that unites your hearts with the path of final salvation. My Eyes are already separating the straw from the wheat.	29 By My Holy Cross I redeemed the world and liberated many essences from hell that had condemned themselves to eternal suffering.	30 I want to see My new soldiers of the end of times willing beyond themselves, surrendered beyond their wills, encouraged beyond any inner unease.	31 Dear ones, perceive with the heart the grandeur of your Father that is in the Universes. Contemplate the Mercy and the Pity that He pours out through His Beloved Holy Son.

Marian Impulses

March 2018

Phrases extracted from the daily messages of Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
				1 I will be with you till the end of days, until My Eyes see the inner Christ born and He is present and mature in the essence of each one of My children.	2 I leave My spiritual promise for all those who follow Me and make of this promise their own aspiration.	3 Today, may those consecrated seek for an inner simplicity so that their essences may draw closer to Christ, and Christ may draw closer to all of His disciples of the new age.
4 Dear children, as Mother of the Consecrated Life, I accompany you on the path of faith, of perseverance, and above all, of the inner union of each soul with Christ.	5 Just rest in My arms, for in this way, I may give you the strength to transform everything. Trust.	6 When the bells peal at midday to announce My arrival, a portal of Heaven opens over the Marian Centers, even though your Heavenly Mother is on pilgrimage in another place.	7 At each new midday may the bells of the Marian Centers sound, and all homes unite to decree the descent of infinite Grace for humanity. So be it.	8 Open to hope and you will be able to penetrate many mysteries: you will see how the art of praying not only uplifts, but also concentrates the consciousness upon positive streams of energy.	9 With the Light of the Mirrors, the deepest and darkest spaces of the Earth are removed and many uncertain doors are closed overnight.	10 Dear children, just as there are millions of stars in the Universe, there are millions of essences that are daughters of this Universal Creation.
11 Essences learn about love through the life experiences of this Universe, until one of them reaches the highest degrees of love, in the same way that Jesus reached them.	12 I Am the Lady of the poor who do not pray, of the poor sinners, of the poor ignorant, of the poor in spirit that have lost their love for God.	13 Humanity needs to understand that as long as it is in this world and imprisoned by it, it will be poor, because true riches are to be found in the Kingdom of God.	14 Consecrate your lives to prayer. Establish goals of peace for yourselves, and no longer deny the Love of the Redeemer, because He comes to make you worthy of looking into His Eyes.	15 Dear children, I Am that Bird of Light that comes to announce peace to the world. I Am that Bird of Light that comes to guide Her children on the path of love and of the good.	16 My children, to be deserving of all the Graces, first you must take care of them; that will represent in the Universe the true care of the spiritual Gifts that you receive.	17 The Graces I bring you are not the same as those of the past; everything is renewed, from the moment in which God grants an atonement to the soul and to the heart that needs it.
18 The Graces I bring you are not the same as those of the past; everything is renewed, from the moment in which God grants an atonement to the soul and to the heart that needs it.	19 As a member of humanity, Saint Joseph contributed to the Universe the living example of a love for knowledge and instruction. He was considered by Adonai as the guardian of souls.	20 My dear children, may the song of planetary healing and redemption be intoned so that uncertain doors in the human consciousness may be closed.	21 May the choirs of the Earth, formed by the great armies of souls at the service of the Plan of God, unite in communion with the powerful angelic choirs.	22 May each singer, who will emit the harmonious melody, place the nations of the world in their heart, so that a time of peace may be established where such no longer exists.	23 My children of the world must keep in mind that I am still waiting for the souls that will offer to form part of the sacred events of this celestial Work.	24 Blessed are the crystals of this world, for within them are kept the Principles that will make the new humanity a more reverent, conscious, and mature race.
25 Behold, I will come from Heaven with the Scepter of God to open the dimensions, decreeing the Power of the Divine Light and of His Will.	26 In these extremely hard times of transition, may sacred faithfulness motivate you to watch over the Plan of God and all the souls that are part of it.	27 Dear children, today I speak to you through My Aspect of faithfulness and of purity so that you may truly believe that it is necessary to protect the Work from yourselves.	28 Evil does not know love and fears Christic love. Evil does not know unity and fears the union among souls that assemble in Christ.	29 In spite of being unknown to all, the purification of these times is the impulse of the Universe that is present to take apart the oldest and most resistant structures.	30 The impulse to purification comes at this time to the human consciousness to place it at another point in evolution and in waking.	31 From time to time, the Lord sends consciousnesses to serve Him unconditionally on this planet, and in this way, transmute and endure suffering similar to that lived by Jesus.

Impulses of Saint Joseph

March 2018

Phrases extracted from the daily messages of the Chaste Heart

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
				1 We ask that you awaken a little more to the true need of the planet, because in the times that are coming you will need to demonstrate greater consciousness and maturity.	2 Those who today are blind in spirit and in heart will seek encouragement and guidance from those who will be able to be minimally in balance in the face of the planetary situation.	3 The Lord will ask for more from those who believe they have already given their all, because not only the planet, but also the universe, need this.
4 I ask that you seek to know the truth that is to be found in your hearts, so that you not be taken by the forces that will spread throughout the world.	5 The Spirit of God will sustain you whenever you are His servants and His soldiers of peace and of prayer.	6 Everything that the Lord will place on your paths will be so that you may generate merits for the salvation of humanity.	7 Learn to love and to accept the differences, because we will ask you to shelter and to sustain beings that are very different from you, from all points of view.	8 Make an effort every day to be more awake; We no longer have any way to warn you. The time of change has already come.	9 Today all I ask of you is that you do not lose the joy of your hearts. That you may be capable of facing the planetary situation with maturity, but never with sadness.	10 If you were to lose the joy of your hearts, you could lose the faith and the hope of seeing the Plan of God being completed, of seeing a redeemed Earth manifested before your eyes.
11 There are a few that will respond to the celestial call until the end of their lives, and will leave seeds for a redeemed life, planted in the soil of this Earth.	12 Today I will ask you to be conscious of the great need of the world and also to be like a light that illumines and warms up the cold hearts of humankind.	13 Find God, and, in Him, the inexhaustible source of wisdom, the unshakable fortitude for moving through days of darkness, and the love that redeems all and forgives all.	14 Never think that your efforts will not be enough; sometimes it will seem that you are rowing against billions of human beings that do things contrary to Divine Will.	15 There will be days when you will not know what to do, nor where to go. At those moments, you must enter into the places of your hearts and seek there all that we have given you.	16 Christ was just one, yet His Love for God and for His Plan changed the destiny of humanity. Today, you are millions that must unite to change the destiny of all of Creation.	17 The days of greatest darkness will dictate the time of greatest surrender, the time of living the greatest love, on which will depend the light that will shine again in the world.
18 God will never abandon you. If He withdrew and you did not find Him outside yourselves, it will be because the time has come to live a perfect union with Him within yourselves.	19 Follow our instructions without fear and with precision, for in this way, you will never miss the path and you will be able to guide others whom you have never met in life.	20 Today I will not ask anything more of you besides continuous prayer and reconciliation with one another. If you do this, your own hearts will present you with the next steps.	21 For peace to be a reality in the world, it must begin to exist in the heart and in the life of some humans, no matter how few.	22 In order to be peaceful, you must learn, with silence and service, to dissolve the obstacles that your own consciousnesses place on the path of those who try to live in peace.	23 Silence must have humility as its basis and peace as its goal. Service must have fraternity as its basis in order to reach the goal of peace.	24 The heart that is willing to become silent achieves peace for itself and for its fellow being, avoiding conflicts, disagreements, and arguments encouraged by the enemy.
25 The heart that is willing to take on what nobody wants to do and through good will brings peace to its surroundings, without realizing it, is being a channel for God in the world.	26 When you consecrate your lives to God, everything that you do, consciously and as a giving of self, becomes a service for the whole of humanity.	27 If there is no love and gratitude in your actions, it would be better if you were like the majority, because worse than doing nothing is doing something without being true.	28 I bring you these instructions not so that you may change your own lives, but so that you may change the planetary life, because you are living cells in the body of this planet.	29 Everything that you do will impact the whole planetary consciousness.	30 The human life that is sacred and always directed towards obedience to the Divine will begin to emerge in small points of light in the world.	31 The new humanity is the product of the effort of each one. In this way, that sacred life gradually expands through the world, consecrating it to the Plan of God.
