3 Place your consciousnesses in the correct direction, do not allow what is superficial and horizontal to take hold of you.

4 Receive from My Heart the impulse of the elevation of consciousness so that, through your prayer, you can reach the entire infinite vision of the Purpose.

5 Raise your eyes and look at God. It does not matter how small you are before a Great Creator, because in your smallness dwells His Greatness.

6 My dear children, may the deep and immutable Peace of Jesus be within your hearts.

7 By surrendering your consciousness, you will awaken to that which is eternal, and on the path, you will discover the Grace of what it means to be able to dwell in God.

8 Raise your eyes and look at God. Reclaim the courage to stand face to face with the One Who has created you. Allow yourself to be overcome by His infinite Love.

9 As Mother of the Holy Lent, I will accompany you at every step so that, just like My Son, the offering of My priests in the world may be deep, broad and mature.

10 Feel in the heart the joy to be serving God just as My Son felt it from the moment of His incarnation in the world.

11 Receive from My Heart the impulse of transcendence, and thus, you will be able to witness the inexhaustible ocean of the Love of God.

12 Raise your eyes and look at God. Rest in His Heart your weariness and the pain of still being in this world, even though you do not belong to it.

13 Contemplate today the invaluable Grace of being in My Presence and in deep union with My Immaculate Heart. Clamor to God for an opportunity for this world.

14 Heaven and Earth shall pass, but My Words will be sown in the humble hearts open to hear the Voice of the Master.

15 Raise your eyes and look at God. Feel His Mercy and let yourself be healed and uplifted by It.

16 During this Sacred Week, I would like you to accompany your Mother of Calvary in each one of the events that marked a before and an after in the history of humanity.

17 I encourage you to live the Passion of Christ as an event of transformation and love for everyone.

18 Come to meet Me spiritually barefoot, leaving at My Feet all that grieves you, everything that separates you from Me.

19 Lift up your eyes and look at God. Be brave to tell Him, finally: Lord, fulfill what you want of me. I tell You yes!

20 Let us walk together following the footprints of Christ until we meet again in the apex of the Sacred Passion of Our Lord.

21 The Chalice is now in My Hands and, from now on, I prepare the Altar to celebrate again the Passion, the Death and the Resurrection of your Master and Lord.

22 Child, renounce all personal will and you shall find the Higher Will. Renounce all the fear of losing yourself, and lose yourself in the vast Universe of God.

23 Let us be in vigil and prayer, waiting for the great moment of the Resurrection of Christ in the hearts of the world.

24 Believe in the faith I pour out for you, in the imperious power of prayer that opens the doors to peace and to Mercy.

25 Leave your heart open so that, like others, it is available for structures to fall and all forms to be broken.

26 Find, in the Grace of being nothing, the All that the Divine Consciousness is. Find, in the Grace of being simple, the greatness of the Celestial Universe.

27 Preparing for the next Easter of Resurrection, let us continue walking beside the Lord in the profound silence of the soul and the heart.

28 Everything will change, everything will shift when souls again experience and feel the spiritual covenant with their Master and Lord.

29 Everything that is great for your heart, in truth cannot be compared with the greatness of God.

30 May forgiveness be the balm for your souls, be the perfect motive to live, every day, new tests of love.

31 Open yourself to forgiveness so that your brothers and sisters also learn to forgive in the same way that God forgives humankind.
