

Christic Impulses

March 2018

Phrases extracted from the daily messages of Christ Jesus

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
				1 Run toward me and free your weaknesses, completely abandon yourselves in My Arms and let Me be in you, which I have been trying since the emergence of your lives. Be brave!	2 If the consciousness manages to melt into the rhythm of the soul, other realities and possibilities will present themselves at the portal of life.	3 Let all humanity, awake or asleep, come toward Me, let them not fear Me, because I know all very well; My Spirit is Omnipresent and Omniscient.
4 The times of normalcy have come to an end, because the Universe to which all belong, excluding none, is in definitions, what we call the New Time for the world.	5 Each inner act of communion carried out by the good souls of the priests opens the doors of the Heavens so that Grace and Reconciliation may be present.	6 Do not fear to show me your mistakes; in My Merciful Eyes, your hearts are as clear as Heaven and as open as flowers. The world needs to confess every day.	7 The one who considers Me to be first in their life will be a venerable sheep of My holy flock. The one who deeply confesses their sins to Me will always be forgiven by Me.	8 I call you to deep prayer that is born of the soul and that contemplates the Compassion of God; because My Heart guides you and gathers you together in the name of peace and of light.	9 When the spiritual heart hurts, this means that an inner stain is being cleaned; this happens when there is a profound conversion in a soul in redemption.	10 If you fail me, do not think of punishment, because God is the living Presence of Love and of Compassion, and His Firstborn Son is the Fount that will wash you and purify you.
11 Universal fire is coming to purify the impurities in all of humanity, and that universal fire will be lighter if you pray, if you pray with the spiritual power of a humble heart.	12 My Heart contemplates the great effort of My servants who, in spite of being few, will be the ones who will sail on the high seas with the Captain of the Sacred Heart.	13 Today My Heart prays; it prays for the world and in the silence contemplates the great moment for souls.	14 To those who were able to walk through the fire of purification I say: be the bridge between the beginning and the end so that the wounded in spirit may cross towards My Heart.	15 I seek those who are simple and pure of heart; I gather these that they may carry My Message to those who do not yet call Me, do not live Me, and do not worship Me.	16 One day I told you to give all that you had and to follow Me; today I say: share everything and do not fear giving what shines hidden like personal property.	17 Let the true guide for your souls and your hearts be the presence of the Sacred Heart, which knows you, which loves you, which knows well about each one of His children.
18 When the spirit of love, of the truth, and of devotion is present and is radiated by My companions, I will be able to say that a part of the mission of love is being fulfilled.	19 The Most Sacred Hearts of Saint Mary and of Saint Joseph address the world and souls in a special way so that all of humanity may recognize the importance of devotion.	20 Dear friends, I know that many of you are about to cross the great threshold of the inner desert in order to experience the transformation that the Father needs in your lives.	21 In these times, may the sublime humility of the heart be able to awaken in you, so that your lives may be freed of an identification with the things of the world.	22 The path of consecration is a path of transcendence and of humility; it is a path for abandoning personal will and for renouncing the vanity that the world awakens.	23 Walk the path of challenges and of sacrifice which presents itself in your lives and drink with Me from the chalice that in these times I give to you through love and mercy.	24 I come to seek something that humanity still has within it, for it not to be lost. I come to establish a Law that comes from the Kingdom of My Father and that will save everyone.
25 Remember, My companions, that you are daily attempting to let go of yourselves and leave behind your projects for the concretization of My Greater Project.	26 Be firm in the face of the tests that the Universe of My Father sends you, because after crossing the abysses of life, My Sacred Heart will receive you in Paradise.	27 Dear ones, I prepare you daily for something greater, something you do not yet know, but that you will soon know when you simply pray and watch with Me.	28 My Mercy is the bridge that unites your hearts with the path of final salvation. My Eyes are already separating the straw from the wheat.	29 By My Holy Cross I redeemed the world and liberated many essences from hell that had condemned themselves to eternal suffering.	30 I want to see My new soldiers of the end of times willing beyond themselves, surrendered beyond their wills, encouraged beyond any inner unease.	31 Dear ones, perceive with the heart the grandeur of your Father that is in the Universes. Contemplate the Mercy and the Pity that He pours out through His Beloved Holy Son.
