DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE CITY OF BELO HORIZONTE, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Where there is a heart that cries out for peace, there will be the presence of the Creator, transforming and converting human consciousness from within.

Where there is a heart that cries out for peace, there will be the presence of the Celestial Universe, uniting times and spaces, bringing the reality of the divine dimensions to Earth, preparing hearts for the encounter with their Creator.

In a simple way, children, the Kingdom of God is beginning to inhabit within beings and to consolidate the inner fortitude of souls.

When you pray and cry out for this world, your Lord listens to you, and sometimes in a silent way, sends His Love to the hearts.

God transforms you slowly; He converts your hearts into what they truly are, but cannot express.

If you want to find out the truth about yourselves, cry out for peace and pray for the world.

If you want to awaken the potential of what it is to be a human being as God thought, cry out for peace and pray for the world.

Prayer, when done as a service, takes you out from yourselves and places you in God, and it is in Him that you will start to find out who you truly are. Pray, not to experience God; pray to live in God, to find Him alive within yourselves and in everything.

Pray for the world, placing everything that you are in the clamor of your hearts. Supplicate for a new time and a new life, and thus this Real Time will be revealed within you, and you will know what it is to be in God, even while being in the world.

You have My Blessing for this.

Your Father and Friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
