DAILY MESSAGE OF SAINT JOSEPH, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF FIGUEIRA, MINAS GERAIS, BRAZIL, TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA DE JESÚS

Feel in your hearts the anguish of the Heart of God, not because of the purification of the nations, but rather for the indifference of humankind toward a time of transition, a moment in which hearts should be awakened, conscious and willing to Love.

Many believe that they are not indifferent to the situation of the planet because they feel they are doing their minimum part, but in these definitive times, children, to be indifferent is to experience and feel life as always, as if the transition and the definition of Earth were something for the future, for others, for those who today are small children and who, in their adulthood, will experience the transition of the planet.

To be indifferent in this time is to not want to see that the purification of the planet has already begun on Earth and in the human consciousness that is gradually being absorbed by the chaos without noticing it.

To be indifferent is to give oneself permission to not fulfill and not live that which one already knows corresponds to them.

To be indifferent in this time is to allow one's own consciousness to step out of the Law of the Hierarchy, the Law of Love and Unity and the Law of Obedience, thinking that transgressing them will not do any harm.

To be indifferent in this time is to not watch oneself closely, so as to not let one's own consciousness enter into human impulsiveness and fall into the same tests as always, as if this were something natural.

To be indifferent at this time is to receive the words and divine instructions every day and not listen to them attentively, to not meditate upon them and not know that in times of emergency God Himself instructs you with details and precision so that you do not become lost on the path.

To be indifferent at this time, children, is to not want to see that this battle is not human or social but rather spiritual and definitive, a battle that began in the Universe and that, at this moment, comes to define the destiny of the Divine Creation.

Listen to My words and eliminate your own indifference from your hearts.

You have My blessing for this.

Your Father and Friend,

The Most Chaste Saint Joseph
