MESSAGE OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY, TRANSMITTED IN THE MARIAN CENTER OF AURORA TO MOTHER SHIMANI

Dear children:

When a soul resists to learn that which the Will of God has designated in each moment of life, this consciousness starts on a path of suffering that at first is imperceptible for it.

In this way a certain time passes, and this consciousness, which at first seemed relieved for not entering into a new learning, begins to feel restlessness; because while their mind and their emotions seem to live that which they desire, their soul and their spirit enter into a process of fear from knowing that they are not in the correct path and that they are wasting precious time; they feel that life does not wait and that the experiences that are not under the hand of the Most High could lead them to errors that soon will not permit them to find the real way out.

Why, My beloveds, do you insist to live in restlessness? Is it that you do not trust Me and the Saviour, My Son, Christ Jesus?

Always bear in mind, dear children, that in this time I am still with you, accompanying you along the paths of your life, and I want that you learn your new paths taken, holding My hand, without suffering, without restlessness and without fear.

In this way you will learn through your own experience to walk along the path of the Lord with discernment and peace; and thus you will be able to know that the paths that the Divine Will offers us are paths by means of which we find peace and interior freedom, those attributes that make us full servants of the Plan of God for His creatures.

Envelop yourselves up in My protective mantle of Mother and take, without fear, the steps that the Creator indicates to you; the one impulse that shouts in the bottom of the heart, and do not fear losing anything, because you will only find the direct path to the Blessed Heart of the Redeemer.

Do not ever rest in the satisfaction of the mind and in the ephemeral fulfillment of the desires of the body, because there you will find nothing. Unite yourselves to My Immaculate Heart and walk the true path that brings you to being dignified children of God. Everything else pertains to the illusion of this world, that has lost its spiritual connection.

You are still on time to find the real path again, that which the human being has lost in the distraction of the senses, material power and modernity.

Encourage yourselves to live for true love, pure love, the one that sustains the true life of the being in the universe.

I wait for you, to accompany you in this challenge.

I love you and I keep you.

Mary, Mother of the Divine Conception of the Trinity and your Mother.
