DAILY MESSAGE OF CHRIST JESUS, TRANSMITTED TO THE VISIONARY FRIAR ELÍAS

And in the end, when the time of the one hundred forty-four thousand apostles of My Divine Mercy is accomplished, I will gather the entire world for a new supper of redemption. In such a supper, in a loud voice will be pronounced the Victory of God by means of the First-Born Son, and there will be no more pain that is felt, sickness that is not healed, conflict that is not solved, and resurrection of those who hope to be in My Eternal Glory.

But before, with those who are the minority, My Heart will do great but silent works of conversion and approximation to My Celestial Kingdom in those who have been far from Me.

And the brave ones, those who will fight against impunity and will establish Divine Justice, will battle with the sword of faith and with the shield of love; and those who at some times were dead in life, will resurrect from the night to the morning. No consciousness, in all of this great and infinite universe, will remain without knowing in some way, that the Son of God has returned to seek in light and love, His own.

The mysterious words from yesterday will be revealed, and all will understand the new philosophy of My Eternal Heart. To those who have persisted beyond themselves throughout time and over the years, I promise before My Supreme Father that they will see My Merciful Face Transfigured and will recognize the law of My Love.

Alas, to those that will deny the message that I have sent to those that are unknown, to those who do not place gold nor power over things; because in the hour of the Universal Judgment, My Heart, the Temple of My Wisdom, will show the Supreme Truth to those who did not believe in My preparatory Message of the end of time.

Because a good disciple of Mine guards the words in the heart and cultivates them as wisdom, to grow in love and in inner truth.

When you see Me come, you will only feel Me in the heart, because My Return will be as a great fire that will light up from east to west, so that the world may finally see the Glory of God.

Under the Greater Good of the Father, be blessed.

Thank you for listening and guarding My words in the heart!

Christ Jesus
