Special message of the Most Holy Virgin Mary, transmitted in the Marian Center of Figueira to the visionary Sister Lucía

Dear children,

Just as My Heart never gets tired of coming to meet you, you must also be tireless in the search of consecration of life to My Immaculate Heart.

Time has come to consolidate the steps that are now built in your souls and, for this, I only ask you to remember day by day the simplicity of the heart.

My Presence has already shed infinite Graces upon your little hearts. The healing that exists in My Kingdom has already been shed upon your souls, healing all that hindered you from coming closer to a divine reality. Now you must trust the greatness of these miracles that come to the world and, upon them, build a secure shelter in which you will receive My Son.

My dear ones, My Heart rejoices because the moment has come for the souls to confirm themselves on this sacred path. All the doors that lead to My Kingdom are open today and to all those in need of help to enter into this Kingdom, the necessary help will be granted.

Therefore, My beloveds, I contemplate with joy the moment of trial that many of My children are experiencing, because this moment is nothing more than an opportunity to mature and strengthen the spirit that the Lord hands to His small creatures.

In this time, I want to see a smile shine on the face of My children, so that in this way, they show the world that they have been given the Divine Joy of being beside the faithful Servant of God.

My beloveds, once again I tell you to come to My arms without delay and not to wait for the steps of others in order to surrender your lives. Be pioneers in the discovery of a love that nourishes and revives the spirits that are fallen and, through the example of life, give the world the testimony of My Presence.

The greatest miracle I have come to perform at the end of this time is the miracle of the conversion of the most lost sinners; it is the miracle of teaching the hearts that felt most closed to love, it is the miracle of healing and redeeming all the spirits who never believed they could return to My Kingdom.

My children, to be at My side is not a Grace granted to a few, it is a universal opportunity that the Lord hands to the world. Therefore, let all creatures of the Earth come to Me, those who feel worthy and those who feel unworthy to accompany Me, because for Me there is no predilection. Souls are all equal before God: creatures coming from a same Source, to which they must return, just as they are at this time.

I bless you and I receive you in My arms.

May the Divine Joy that radiates from My Heart be expressed in your lives.

Mary, Mother and Queen of Peace
