MESSAGE FOR THE VIGIL OF PRAYER IN THE CITY OF CARACAS, VENEZUELA, TRANSMITTED BY THE QUEEN OF PEACE AND OF HOPE, THE VIRGIN MARY TO THE VISIONARY SISTER LUCÍA

Children of Mine,

On this day, a radiant Sun crossed the world, illuminated the lives and the hearts, removed the souls from darkness and rested over Venezuela. This Sun, that burns in Divine fire and comes from the Holy Spirit, comes to light up the hearts of the children of God, which are dimmed out of fear and by the lack of Faith and of Hope.

This Sun came to show that, to the one who asks, it always will be given and to the one who calls with fervor at the doors of Heaven and clamors for the help of God, He will always send help, listening with Love to the prayers of His children.

My beloved ones, I want to invite you to persist in the Spirit of Pacification, because the one who seeks Peace and lives it radiates to their brothers and sisters and brings to the world the possibility that others may discover the Power of Peace and may live it.

Confirm day by day the union with Me, because My Heart vigils this world day and night, always attentive to a sincere call, a prayer filled with faith.

Children of mine, these are times of chaos in the whole world. It has been permitted by God that humanity may learn through the consequences of its own acts. But today I say to you that this learning is not for all, because there exists the possibility of learning through Love and Peace. You only need to walk towards this goal and in your lives sow actions that generate fruits meritorious for a life of Peace.

Peace is reached through the union with God, because if you are united to Him, you may understand His Plans; if you are united to God, you may find His Will in all the events of life and in everything you will find the perfect offer to be realized to the Lord, for all of those who live in the world and suffer even more, because they suffer in ignorance and in the lack of God.

My beloveds, to find the path of Christ, discover the resemblance that there is between your lives and the life of the Lord, and ask with fervor that He may help you to discover this unity between the Calvary of Christ and the Calvary that the whole world lives.

You must, in this time in which chaos is growing, learn to transcend the limits of the events of life and, as My Son has taught you, "to be in the world, without being of the world". Know that every experience brings learning and all learning brings a strengthening and an inner maturity.

A soldier will learn to be a soldier, battle after battle, and the soldiers of Christ will learn to merge themselves with Christ when, battle after battle, they may overcome themselves and their enemies, by loving them.

My dears, these are times of the discovering of love and of finding it in all, because all the difficulties of life bring to you an opportunity to love. Just as My Son, embrace this cross that is being given to you as humanity and know that even in the time of Christ many carried a cross, but few knew how to love it and to find in it the liberation of the world.

Who will offer themselves to renew the sacrifice of Christ? Who will find in pain the will to relieve the pain of the other? Who will know how to forget themselves in order to truly love their enemies? Who will be the sun of the new time that will remove from darkness those who did not know how to find the Light? Who will accompany Me until the end, who will proclaim Peace and will live Hope in a world that is destroying itself? Who will bring My Kingdom to Earth? Who will summon themselves?

These are questions that your hearts must know how to answer in this time. And to all of those who say yes, I say to you, that I will always be with you and that I will always accompany you.

Just pray, pray much and live Peace in your hearts.

This is My last call: Peace.

I love you and I bless you always.

Mary, Mother and Queen of Peace
